

Application for a Medicare Entitlement Statement

Purpose of this form

To apply for an exemption from the Medicare levy in your income tax return, you must supply a Medicare Entitlement Statement to the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) certifying that you are not eligible for Medicare.

The Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 makes the Medicare levy payable by individuals residing in Australia who are eligible for Medicare. Persons who are not eligible for Medicare can apply for an exemption from the Medicare levy in their income tax return.

Persons not eligible for Medicare

You are not eligible for Medicare if you are:

- a permanent resident of Australia, and
 - have been absent from Australia for 12 months or more.
 - do not live in Australia.
 - have not returned to Australia to reside permanently.
 - are residing in Norfolk Island.
- an Australian citizen who
 - has been absent from Australia for more than 5 years.
 - resides in Norfolk Island.
- a New Zealand Citizen who travels frequently in and out of Australia and spends less than 6 months in a 12 month period in Australia.
- a person who
 - does not meet the criteria under a Reciprocal Health Care Agreement that Australia has with one of the following countries – the United Kingdom, Northern Ireland, Italy, Malta, Sweden, the Netherlands, Finland, Norway, Belgium or Slovenia.
 - has not applied for permanent residency.

Even if you are not eligible for Medicare, you may still not be eligible for an exemption if you maintain a dependant that is eligible for Medicare. The ATO make the determination on whether you are eligible for an exemption.

How to apply

- A separate application form is required for each financial year. (A financial year runs from 1 July to 30 June.)
- When your application has been assessed and processed, you will receive a Medicare Entitlement Statement which will certify that you are not eligible for Medicare benefits for the specified period.
- You should not apply for a Medicare Entitlement Statement for the current financial year unless you are leaving Australia and will be submitting a final income tax return before the end of the financial year.
- If a tax agent prepares the application, the tax agent must complete the tax agent details in this application form.
